

Why I am Glad I go to St. Paul's Lutheran School

This year, 9 of the 14 freshmen who graduated St. Paul's in 2017 were on the honor roll. I feel this was largely because of what they learned at St. Paul's. I think this is because each grade has one teacher so you know who your teacher will be. I also like our religion time and worship. I really like the trips we go on too.

One of the reasons Saint Paul is special is the classes. Each grade has one main teacher, so you know who your teacher will be. We also have spanish and art which is something special.

Another reason is that St Paul's has and focuses on religion. At St. Paul's, we spend a lot of time praying. On average, we pray 4 times a day. We also have a religion class as well as worship. Every Thursday we have worship at the church that is connected to the school.

The best part of St. Paul's is the trips. For the older kids, each year there are 2 main trips, Washington DC and camp Ewalu. For the DC trip students not only make models of famous monuments, but also fundraise for the trip. After going to Ewalu, the students put on a skit about the trip, which not only is funny, but also shows off their public speaking skills.

That is why I'm glad I go to St. Pauls. It has good teachers and classes, a great focus on religion, and many fun trips that keep students engaged while teaching them.
